Our story

We are three professionals who made an unconventional decision... we left our corporate careers to build something we genuinely believe in.

Like many people around us, we relied on coffee every day for quick energy, but often followed by crashes, jitters, and burnout. It felt like a cycle we could not escape.

So we started exploring alternatives and discovered matcha which is a cleaner, more sustained source of caffeine that supports focus without the spike, thanks to its natural combination of caffeine and L-theanine. Unlike coffee, matcha does not give you sudden crashes a few hours later.

But it was not just about energy.

We were drawn to matcha because it's rich in antioxidants that support overall wellbeing and gentler on our body, compared to highly acidic coffee.

What began as a personal shift quickly became something bigger.

And we realised if more people experienced matcha this way, it would not just be an alternative, it would become a daily ritual!

That belief is what led us to start this journey.

What does SANcha mean?

Our name, SANcha, is simple but deeply personal.

“SAN” (三) means three in both Chinese and Japanese. It represents us, the three founders behind this brand, and the shared journey that brought us here.

“Cha” (茶) means tea, the heart of everything we do.

Together, SANcha (三茶) means “three teas”. It's a name that reflects both our identity and the culture behind matcha.

It's also a small nod to the fact that the character 茶 is shared across both Chinese and Japanese traditions, just like matcha itself, which connects history, craftsmanship, and modern life.

Where is our matcha sourced from?

We work directly with producers in Zhejiang, China, who are using modern processing techniques inspired by Japanese methods, producing finely milled, high-grade matcha and are able to offer consistency at scale.

While matcha is often associated with Japan, its origin trace back to China, where powdered tea was first developed. Japan later refined the process into what we know as modern matcha.

Our goal is to combine traditional knowledge with modern quality control to create a consistent, high-quality product.

SANcha Tinned Matcha

At SANcha, we believe matcha should tell a story.

Our journey begins with two distinct expressions of tea craftsmanship: IKI and YUAN.

Each reflects a different perspective on what matcha can be, one born from innovation and harmony, the other from purity and origin.

IKI (粹)

IKI is our signature blend, bringing together two exceptional cultivars:

- Longjing 43, prized for its smooth sweetness and delicate nutty character
- Yabukita, Japan's most celebrated tea cultivar, known for its rich umami and balance

Carefully blended, Iki offers a layered and sophisticated cup with notes of fresh greens, gentle sweetness, and a lingering, silky finish.

It represents our philosophy of bringing together Chinese and Japanese tea heritage to create something uniquely SANcha.

For those who appreciate complexity, balance, and refinement.

YUAN (源)

Yuan is our pure expression of a single cultivar: Yabukita.

Unblended and uncompromising, it showcases the character that has made Yabukita the foundation of modern matcha.

Expect a clean, vibrant cup with pronounced umami, fresh vegetal notes, and remarkable clarity.

Yuan is a return to the source, a celebration of terroir, craftsmanship, and the beauty of simplicity.

For those who seek authenticity and a deeper connection to the leaf itself.

B2B Supply

Can we have a category dedicated to b2b supply?

We want to supply to other cafés, restaurants, any other businesses our matcha powder. There will be 2 options of 500g and 1kg packets.

We want to feature 500kg and 1kg packets on our website and they can order online if they want it under 10kgs. If they want more than 10kgs, they can fill up an enquiry form for bulk discount.

Other information:

- Our current domain is sanchamatcha.co.uk
- We are not featuring our drinks menu on the website
- We would like to sell our tinned matcha, merchandise, gift cards on the website so if our hero product (tinned matcha) can be featured on the main page of the website would be great
- Can feature some benefits of matcha e.g. antioxidants, calm and steady energy, does not give you jitters and caffeine crash like coffee
- We want to highlight matcha as the alternative option of caffeine intake
- We are still deciding on the price of the tins and merchandise so we will update asap
